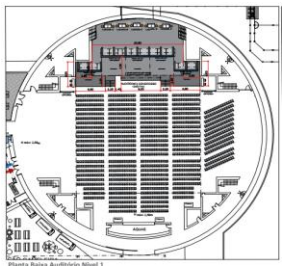
AUDITORIUMS AND THEIR OPERATION

Stage set up: The Exposibram Congress will be held in a single auditorium for up to 1.400 attendees, divided into five simultaneous stages or in plenary format with one single stage. It will be equipped with a silent audio system, simultaneous Portuguese/English translation and, occasionally, interpretation in Libras (Brazilian Signage Language). Each stage has return screens and timer for control of the remaining time.

Except for the sessions marked as one single stage, there will not be sound amplification in the auditorium.



Speakers will use microphones and the sound will be transmitted to headphones both for audience and panel members at the stage. Therefore, speakers do not need to speak loudly, a moderate tone of voice is enough for capturing sound. Headphones will be delivered by the stage receptionist before starting the session and collected at the end so please leave it on the stage chairs.

All panel members go up together to stage and the moderator will introduce each one briefly and start the panel.

Audience will send questions through Sli.do, an online Q&A tool, and the moderator will read them aloud to the panellists. The moderator will be provided with a tablet to moderate questions at Sli.do. Along with the Sli.do tutorial which will sent in advance for reference, the moderator can run tests on the tablet in the speaker lounge.

We request moderator and panellists to gather at the center of the stage for the official group photo, to be taken at the end of the session. After that, you can leave stage through the back, using the passages located on the sides of the screen. Stage staff will guide you through.

Interviews and talks after session: In case of interviews, talks, or press assistance after the panel, we kindly ask that they take place in the speaker lounge or in the foyer, so as not to interfere with the preparation and access dynamics of the next groups to the stage.

MODERATORS AND PANELLISTS DUTIES

Moderators and panellists should hold a prior meeting, preferably from 07/24 to 08/14, to align the topics that will be addressed, the dynamics and narrative of the session, sequence of speeches, commitments and the distribution of time.

How to schedule the meeting:

- The moderator must inform in the WhatsApp group options of dates and times available for the meeting, considering an estimated duration between 45 and 60 minutes..
- The speaker secretariat will follow up the meeting scheduling at the best date and time for all participants.
- After it is set, the secretariat will share the meeting link to all group members at Whatsapp.

The secretariat, together with the congress curatorship, will start the online meetings, and will support in case of any doubts related to congress operation.

Here are some key guidelines for the preparation of the panel:

Objectives of the panel: the moderator is responsible for safeguarding the panel's objectives and timekeeping.

Panel syllabus is available at Exposibram 2026 websites. The syllabus is a summary highlighting the essential points about the theme or area, highlighting the main points to be discussed. The moderator can forward suggestions for adjustments, if necessary.

Everyone must also send the requested data within the deadlines, collaborating for the smooth operation and promotion of the panel, as well as the work of the operational teams.

Moderator

The moderator organizes and guides the panel, keeping the debate focused on the main topic. They help participants find long-term solutions for the mining sector, support panellists in generating insights, and facilitate connections and conclusions.

Consolidate and send the panel script: The script is a document to be prepared and managed by the moderator, containing the proposed narrative for the panel, as well as the timings and sequence of speakers. The document must be submitted to the congress secretariat by August, 17th. The file template with the essential data will be available in the WhatsApp groups.

Presentation timing: The moderator must manage the session time to ensure the programme stays on schedule. On the day of the event, there will be a countdown timer on screen, and the team will signal how much time is left before the session ends.

Questions from the audience: The moderator will receive a tablet with access to the Sli.do tool, which the audience will use to submit questions. The moderator will then review the submissions, select the questions and direct them to the panellists for an oral response.

Panellist: Responsible for explaining the session topic in an objective and succinct manner, offering innovative insights into the global mining sector whilst remaining mindful of the narrative timing. This slot must not be used for corporate self-promotion, but rather to share experiences and practices that benefit the entire industry.

They must contribute to the debate by sending at least 2 (two) advance questions to the moderator to help warm up the discussion. They must also inform the moderator if there are any restricted topics that cannot be discussed openly, allowing them to filter the questions accordingly.

PANEL DYNAMICS

Preparatory Phase:

Focus on objectives and timing: the moderator must ensure that the discussion meets the panel's objectives and respects the scheduled duration.

We kindly request that, when planning the total time for each panel, you consider the period required for participants to enter and leave the stage, as well as the time reserved for audience questions. We recommend the following breakdown to help organise the panel flow.

Example for a panel with a total duration of 90 minutes:

Time	Activity
5 minutes	Entrance and seating of participants on stage, and welcoming the audience
65 minutes	Presentations and development of technical content
15 minutes	Questions and Answers (Q&A) session
5 minutes	Official group photo and leaving the stage

At the Event:

- Arrive at Expominas 40 to 60 minutes in advance to collect your badge at the official registration desk, at the counter designated for SPEAKERS. If possible, please prioritise using the metro to avoid traffic jam within the car park and nearby roads, as well as high demand for parking spaces.
- After registration, please proceed to the Speakers' Lounge, where you will find the other members of your panel and receive the necessary guidance for participating in the session.
  Should you experience any difficulties or require assistance, please contact the Panelist Secretariat team by phone or via the WhatsApp group.
- Going on stage: Moderators and panellists must be in the 'reserved' seats next to their stage before the panel begins, where they will receive their headsets from the stage crew. When it is time to go on stage, everyone will walk up together and take their seats. Once everything is ready, the moderator will receive a signal from the stage support team to start. The moderator will then open the session and guide the panel. A supporting text with suggested scripts, reminder notes for conducting the panel, and any relevant announcements will be sent to the moderators via the WhatsApp group after 17 August.

SCREEN PROJECTION OR SLIDES PRESENTATION:

Please note that slide presentations and screen projections are not planned, as this event prioritises open conversation and debate. However, should a presentation be absolutely necessary, the projection file must be in PPT format, using a 16:9 widescreen ratio with a 1920x1080 resolution.

Please name the file with the speaker's name and include the date, time, and panel title of your session in the email subject line or body to assist the projection operators and secretariat team.

- Presentation submission: If a presentation file is necessary and has been agreed upon with the moderator, it must be sent by 17 August to the following e-mail address:

palestrante.exposibram@ibram.org.br, for the attention of Mara Póvoa. No files will be accepted after this date. In this instance, we kindly request that you bring your presentation directly to the media desk to be installed at least 3 hours before your panel begins. This will ensure sufficient time to check and transfer the file from the media desk to the house mix.

- Presentation check: Even if you have sent your file by email, it is important to double-check the final version of your presentation (PPT) at the media desk. Please bring it saved on a USB flash drive as a backup (in case of any discrepancies) for local upload.
- Presentation template: The event template for presentations will be sent via the WhatsApp groups.
- Videos and audio-visual resources: Wherever possible, we recommend that videos and other audio-visual content are in Portuguese and include subtitles in either Portuguese or English, depending on the audio language, to improve accessibility for people with disabilities (PwD). Video audio can be translated by the simultaneous interpreters during the session.
- Image and copyright compliance: Please use only music, images, or other content for which your company holds the copyright or distribution rights, or materials sourced from free, public-domain databases. You must also strictly comply with any requirements on how to credit the copyright holder. The congress organisers may be held liable for any unauthorized use or infringement of copyright law.
- Self-promotion guidelines: The primary focus of the panels must be oriented towards contributions that benefit the entire sector, organisations, and society, rather than the commercial promotion of individuals, companies, organisations, services, or products.
